Home Page

This page gives the user five options for navigating the Eye Heart Gallery's submission website. The navigation lives at the top left for the time being. It consists of a submit, about, faq, gallery and blog page. I would like to stylize this more. But, I am focusing on the experience first.

HOW TO SUBMIT

Women's Art & Design Show

Please send or bring in art and design work by October 10th, 2017 for possible entry. All art mediums are encouraged and welcomed. Designers and Artists have the opportunity to sell their work. The winner of the Better Together art show will win a spread in Oprah magazine, a tote bag full of surprises and a ticket to the International Women in the Art's event in San Francisco, CA.

Submission Page

This page allows artists and designers to learn about the submission process. The user has the option of going back home if they like. I might add a button to the gallery page for their inspirational viewing.

About

This section of the site informs the user about The Eye Heart It gallery's goals and creative happenings.

Gallery

I wanted to create a simple gallery page that lets the user click with ease through the gallery's collection.

Gallery 2

This is page 2 within the gallery. The viewer also has the chance to return home. I am thinking of adding a share button on these images to make it more interactive.

Blog

This page will feature the journal and thoughts of the Eye Heart It Gallery.

Goal

The goal of my site is to encourage women artists and designers to attend and submit to the Women's Art & Design show. In addition, I want The Eye Heart It's gallery to gain traction, members and volunteers.
